Housing Survey Underway in Borough to Aid Planning Board in Future Decisions

A pleasant young man, notebook in hand, is walking the streets of Princeton's District 1 these days, making a housing survey. And a new Housing Committee has been set up within Borough Council.

Not another Princeton housing survey! And what is "District 1" anyway?

Yes, another Princeton housing survey, another "study group." "District 1" is the area outlined in the so-called "village" housing report published in 1973 by the Princeton Regional Planning Board. The District encompasses all of the Borough, plus the built-up northeastern part of the Township within a boundary extending north on State Road to Stuart Road, east on what will be Stuart to Snowden Lane, then down Herrontown Road to Route 27—40% of the entire Princeton community.

The young man is Bill Queale, senior partner in Queale and Lynch, new resident planning firm for the Planning Board. Last fall, under his first six-month contract with the board, he walked the town for another purpose—making a lot-by-lot land use survey of the entire Princeton community.

Beauty shop. . .bar. . .office over single-family home; sketching in a planner's picture of Palmer Square: shoes, travel, cameras, decorating, yarn, furs, flowers, apartments above . . . . . counting the mailboxes to see how many apartments. . .

This land-use survey is so detailed that survey sheets show a line on a pair of single-family attached houses to indicate "attached."

"We want as much detail as possible," Mr Queale explains, "Then you can go back, say in 1985, to the original sheets and say, well, the trend over the years has been so-and-so and you have a base for re-evaluation."

Right now, Mr. Queale's firm is consolidating all the tax maps of Borough and Township, reducing them to a scale of 1/800 and getting them ready for a composite tax map, probably four feet long, which will be the most precise and accurate picture ever drawn of the whole Princeton community.

The current survey is literally a door-to-door survey, but from the outside.

"We'll note the basic tone of a neighborhood: cracked foundations, sagging roofs. Is there a pattern of lack of maintenance? We don't actually go into a yard, but we do note side and back yards. Lots of times, a house facade is nice but the rear yards . . . . . not so."

Why do all this?

Hans K. Sander, Planning Board chairman, says "We want to know how new housing is to be introduced into this District and by what means."

Golda Gottlieb, chairman of the board's housing sub-committee, says the 1973 housing study recommended 800 more housing units for this area "but not on the basis of any firm facts regarding present housing stock."

"We must know more, in detail, to make sensible rules to guide

Services and Projects in Borough Face Cutback As Council Fights to Keep 97¢ Local Tax Rate

That eight-point local Borough tax increase in last week's "tentative" Administrator's budget is about to feel the sharp knife of Council members and mayor, warned Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week.

Unanimously, the all-Democratic Council and the Republican mayor hope that the local tax rate can be kept exactly at the 1974 level of 97 cents.

"There is incompatibility between the tentative budget and Council's general objective---to keep the local tax rate the same," the mayor told his oress conferenee. "We've got a heck of a lot of work ahead to get it down the '74 level, and it may not be possible."

Services and projects that a lot of people are fond of and interested in, said the mayor, his warning siren still going, will have to be eliminated or cut back severely.

Mayor Cawley declined to name services he thought wnuld feel the knife. However, he suggested that private "contributions" might be useful for some agencies and he mentioned the Recreation Department, which might increase some of its fees, he said, and the library, which might turn to the Friends of the Library for "aggressive solicitation" of funds. He said the Shade Tree Commission has always accepted private donations, so there is precedent.

"Special projects will be examined closely," the mayor continued. "if deferral means more money later---in maintenance projects, for example—we'd go ahead now. We'll also examine the impact of projects on employment. No, I don't think we'll let any employees go, but any salary increases will be on the modest side.

Borough police, members of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, asking for a 17 percent salary increase: 12 percent cost of living, and 5 percent for "allowing the men to advance." Borough departments had already cut back on travel expenses and requests for new ears or typewriters, but the mayor said, "It's the big money that's got to go."

"We're asking townspeople to accept our rationale that the tax rate has top priority," the mayor emphasized, "We hope people will accept our hard decisions in a positive way---ultimately, keeping the tax rate down will help us all."

The mayor blamed the tight situation in part on the failure of the state legislature to set up an income-tax "This is a major contributor to our problems," he said

He pointed out that the Borough is a wealthy town, so far as rateables go. "But that doesn't help the individual out of a job, or the maldistribution of wealth within the town."

TO BUY GARAGE

Township Wants Tiger. The Tiger Bus Garage on John Street will be purchased by the Township for $105,000, if an ordinance introduced Monday night is passed. Public hearing will be February 3.

Suburban Transit now has a new terminal in Monroe Township and is willing to sell the big garage. Neighbors around John Street have protested for years about the noise and fumes from buses, Mayor Jay Bleiman pointed out, but the Township plans to use the structure chiefly for storage, and there will be no chuffing and puffing at dawn hours, he said.

The garage will be used to house heavy equipment that now stands outside accumulating maintenance costs. Equipment under a roof lasts longer, the mayor observed, so the building is a long-term investment.

"And we want to be sure there are no more bus storage garages in a residential area," Mayor Bleiman said.

Anyone who thinks Princeton is bike-happy should have heard the protests of Great Road residents and neighbors against an ordinance to acquire $10,000 worth of bike path easements along The Great Road.

Attorney Thomas Jamieson, for John Winant, took Committee to task for not having in hand the kind of precise engineering cost and environmental impact data required of a private developer. "What's sauce for the goose should be sauce for the gander," he said.

Alternate Route. Mr. Jamieson proposed an alternate route: along Pretty Brook Road and into Princeton Day School by its back entrance. Committee-member Abbot Low Moffat said he and former Committee member Barbara Smoyer had considered that alternative and abandoned it. The route is longer and just as hazardous as The Great Road, he said.

Vietor Davis, of North Road, challenged the need for bike paths. PDS Headmaster Douglas McClure had said 60 children would use the paths, but Mr. Davis said he'd only counted 17 cyclists. He also challenged published cost figures for bike paths, and contributed his own estimate of $77,404 per mile.

It wasn't until late in the evening that a PDS parent, Mrs. Lucius Wilmderding III, pointed out that PDS has a policy against bike-riding, and that Headmaster McClure has urged parents to forbid children to ride the road. Mrs. Wilmderding told Committee she supports a Great Road bike path.

Mr. Moffat repeated his cost estimate of $12.75 a foot plus 15 percent contingency costs and repeated that it was deliberately a high estimate. But William Barr, Westerly Road, compared it to a $3.50 per foot estimate in the original bike master plan, and reminded Committee that still other paths were contemplated.

He presented a petition signed by 50 people, asking updating of the four-year-old bike master plan, and restructuring to reflect the energy crisis and current economic conditions.

Federal Money Smight. Are bike paths for transportation or recreation? Mr. Moffat said you emphasized recreation if you were asking for Federal BOR (Bureau of Outdoor Reereation) money, and transportation if you reminded speakers Princeton schools have turned over "hazardous" routes to the Township were angling for DOT (Department of Transportation) funding.

"We want Federal funding," the mayor emphasized, "we're not saying the Township should absorb this if we can't get it."

Chiefly to find the answer to a legal technicality, the ordinance was tabled. Is it true that the BOR can't make a grant of money unless the Township has title to the lands or has started condemnation proceedings? Mr. Moffat, the Township's two-wheel expert, agreed to the postponement.

Still on The Great Road, Committee learned that the state has refused the Township's application for money to reconstruct the so-called Section 4.

Should more meetings be open to the public? Arnold Dumey, doughty fighter for the integrity of Mt. Lucas Road, protested closed meetings of the site plan review board with developers. That beginning phase, Mr. Dumey argued, is the very time citizens should be allowed to speak their piece.

To allow the public at site plan sessions would impinge on the developer's rights, replied Committee member William Sutphin. Site plan consists of experts who are the peers of the architect presenting the plans, he said "It's shirt-sleeve work among professionals."

In other business, Committee scored a "first." George Rollings was sworn in as Fire Chief of Princeton Township. The three fire companies operate under the aegis of the Borough, and are always sworn in at Borough Hall.

Want a Job (unpaid)?

Job openings on municipal boards may not take you off Unemployment Comp., but they can fill many an empty evening.

Janice Schneier has submitted her resignation from the Public Library's Board of Trustees (she's just been named to the Borough Zoning Board), and the Borough needs a replacement for her. The Borough also has a vacancy on its Traffic Safety Committee. James Britt was recently named to a vacancy on the welfare board.

In the Township, Lois de Menil has just resigned from the Citizens Advisory Council on Housing. A second vacancy also exists on this board.

If you're interested, let Borough or Township Hall know of your interest and qualifications to serve. Jobs are free—no paycheck to worry about.

A WALKER IN THE CITY: William Queale, Princeton's new resident planner, has been surveying Princeton, lot by lot. Using his car one day to cover widely-spaced parts of the Township, he was spotted by Township police, suspicious of a slow-moving car whose driver was making notes about houses. A siren pulled him over and he was able to square himself with the law.

Housing Survey

development," she continues, "What houses now need rehabilitation? Which ones will need it in the future. In the far distant future, what areas may need redevelopmeot?"

"Suppose two or three houses close together come on the market. Somebody wants to combine them, for apartments. What would be the hasis for our decisioo? Is the neighborhood suitahle? What ahout height, deosity? Would the project fit in with the town?"

The Planniog Board is also interested in the oew (1974) Federal leasing program which makes money available to---say, ao "Authority" or a town---to lease housing at the market priee, then rent it out to tenants at a rent lower thao the market price, with the Federal government making up the difference.

The board is also concerned about ways to keep aoy low-middle income housing from escalating. Mr. Saoder vividly recalls Society Hill, the Philadelphia neighborhood that was built 20 years ago for middle-income families. Prices there have since zoomed out of sight.

The ecooomic feasibility study of the Planning Board's "village" proposals, made by the Real Estate Research Corporation and paid for with $38,000 of New Jersey money as a state pilot project, may have suggestions. It's an "extremely useful study," Mrs. Gottlieb says. The Planning Board is scheduled to receive it some time next month.

Around Town. Mr. Queale's walks have helped immeasureably to get him acquainted with Princeton, something quite important for a resident planner.

He enjoys what he has seen.

"The plastic society doesn't have much of a foothold in Princeton," he has observed, "fast-food chains, and that kind of thing. Art work and architectural detail in the older structures---you can look 40 or 50 feet into the air and see fine detail a lot of people don't even know is there."

"Princeton does have an aura: the visual impact of the University, the age of other buildings, the open spaces. All this is worth preserving, and most developers recognize this."

Mr. Queale has had some quiet amusemeot in older parts of town. "Sight along the side of an old building sometime---its sides bulge and some buildings even tilt! You look at a row of structures and you can see that the middle ooe is held up by all the rest."

Using material gathered by various consultants and study groups over the years---some not complete---and the land use survey of last fall, and community-wide census data, the Queale firm will help the Planning Board ask questions that will lead to policy.

How many housing units are there? What's their average condition? Are stores and commercial establishments in better shape than houses? (Color coding will instantly show up which blocks in Princeton are in bad condition.)

How many big, older houses are there? In excellent condition? Below-average condition? Should rehabilitation be stimulated in some way? Should conversion to apartments be encouraged?

Many property owners have two adjoining lots, but use only one. There is potential here, but under present zoning regulations most of these second lots are too small to build on. Should zoning be changed?

What To Do? "Is it good---or bad---to increase the population density?" Mr. Queale asks, "is it good---or bad---to let Princeton stagnate, or cause it to decline?"

Maybe all the detailed study will show that no changes should be made at all. Even an exhaustive survey can be inconclusive, Mr. Queale has found in other communities. And often minor changes can have an effect.

"Maybe building code enforcement should be tightened, garbage pick-up encouraged, streets swept, broken sidewalks repaired, home owners stimulated to plug away out of a sense of community pride. After all, your taxes won't go up if you paint the front porch once in a while."

The Queale firm will evaluate some zoning alternatives: increases in the allowed building height, incentive zoning in commercial areas, increasing the allowed floor-area ratio, or maybe simply punching an archway to free pedestrian traffic.

...And In Borough Hall. While Mr. Queale is counting houses, studyiog the new natural resources inventory and examining tax records, Borough Council's new housing committee is getting out its own building blocks. Barbara Sigmund is chairman, Nelson van deo Blink and Joseph Moore are the two other members.

"We'll be a vehicle within Borough government for coordinating the efforts of Planning Board and Civil Rights Commission for a Community Development Corporation," Mrs. Sigmund explains.

Civil Rights hopes for $2,000 in its new budget to find out how to stabilize housing so black residents won't be forced out of Princeton.

The new committee will also provide a forum where citizens and Council members can talk about ways to expand housing. For example, the state is saying that moderate-income housing must be incorporated into areas a town wants to buy with Green Acres money, Mrs. Sigmund says. This means the Borough's old quarry site off Spruce Street. Conversations with the Department of Community Affairs may hegin early next month.

Also, Council's housing group will be a study committee to examine the 1973 rent levelling law. It expires in August. Should it be renewed, chaoged or allowed to perish?

Yes, there will be some duplication of Planning Board effort. Mrs. Sigmund concedes, but if the Planning Board re-activates its zooing sub-committee, Council wants a say on aoy changes proposed.

The three Council members hope to meet with various groops around town and may hold some public meetiogs. Naturally, the group is concerned chiefly about the Borough, whose voters elected its members.

Alert Work of Borough Police's "Bandit Squad" Leads To Arrest of Mugging and Rape Suspects

The alert identification of a car on a police "hot sheet" by Borough detectives Thursday was the first link of a chain of evidence that has led to the arrest of two suspects who, police said, were involved with the rape of a Princeton housewife and mugging of an elderly couple here.

The arrests were the result of a special "Bandit Squad" formed approximately two weeks ago by Capt. Theodore Lewis at the direction of Chief Michael Carnevale to attempt to apprehend muggers who have committed a series of assaults and robberies that has stirred the community. "There's no question the squad has been effective," said Chief Carnevale, who added that it will continue in operation.

Arrested are Walter W. Daniels, 36; Leroy Miller, 19; Marvin Miller, 20, and his wife, Elizabeth, 20—all of Trenton. All have been charged with possession of stolen property and possession of a dangerous weapon.

From the police investigation it was determined, Chief Carnevale said, that Daniels was the rapist of a Prospect Avenue area housewife in her home December 20, and was one of the participants in the mugging and robbery of an elderly couple December 14 in the Princeton Seminary parking lot.

Bail Totals $150,000. He has been charged with rape, atrocious assault and battery, assault with a dangerous weapon, breaking and entering, and possession of a stolen auto. He is in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $150,000 bail on all charges. Police said that he grew up in Princeton and attended school here.

Chief Carnevale continued that Leroy Miller has been linked, through the police investigation, with participating and aiding and abetting in the rape of the Borough woman and the entry in her home and was present with Daniels during the assault of the elderly couple.

In jail in lieu of $75,000 bail he has been charged with rape, atrocious assault and battery, assault with a dangerous weapon, breaking and entering and receiving stolen property. Miller was further charged with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana. Police said that he is AWOL from the U.S. Army.

Marvin and Elizabeth Miller were released in their own recognizance, pending their appearance in court.

The first step that led to their arrest began at 5:15 Thursday when Detectives Timothy Huizing and Ronald Holliday, members of the Bandit Squad together with Detectives Charles Harris, Douglas Watson, and Lt. John J. Bellow and Capt. Lewis—observed a 1975 Plymouth with Virginia plates on Witherspoon Street. "We were actively looking for this car," Chief Carnevale explained, because police had been informed that it had been rented in Roanoke, Va. with a credit card allegedly stolen during the attack on the elderly couple in the Seminary lot.

They issued a stop alarm and the car was pulled over by Sgt. Thomas Procaccino at Palmer Square and Nassau Street. The four occupants were arrested and taken to headquarters.

Club, Gun Found. The car was searched. Under the front seat police found a 16-inch wooden club which they believed was used to beat the elderly woman while a knife was held to her husband's throat. In the trunk, police uncovered a fully-loaded 7.65 Beretta automatic pistol which Daniels had allegedly purchased in a Georgia pawn shop. Police said that he had the receipt in his possession.

Police also found an 11½-inch snap-out knife, with a trade name of 007, which they believe was used during the assault on the couple and during the rape.

All of the suspects were arraigned the day following the arrest before Judge Philip Carchman.

"We were fortunate to make these apprehensions," said Chief Carnevale, who praised the special squad for its dedication. "All have put in a lot of time," he said, "and they get no recompense for it aside from the satisfaction.

"When a special unit like this is set up it usually works from 12 to 8 or 4 to 12—which means they haven't seen their families for two or three weeks."

The special squad is briefed every day, Chief Carnevale reported. The briefing includes whatever information police have been able to gather concerning suspects and any types of activity or patterns that may have developed during muggings and crimes within the community.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

Next Tuesday. The school board hasn't yet taken a position on the Wednesday Program, said board vice-president Hannah Fox this week, but the board's curriculum committee had a meeting scheduled for this Wednesday, and is expected to have some suggestions about the controversial program.

"Wednesday" is on next Tuesday's school board agenda for the meeting that will be held at 8 p.m. in Community Park School. Two petitions opposing the program have been circulating in the community, chiefly in the Shady Brook area. One suggests a once-a-month Wednesday half day; the other, elimination of the program all together.

The agenda also lists discussion of the schools' language program and action by the board to close the schools Good Friday, March 28.

The board is also expected to incorporate formally into its code the practice of confidentiality on personnel matters. Under the new resolution, the board affirms that it will not discuss in public the details of decisions on matters affecting an employee's work or appointment. The policy is not new, but it is new in the formal code.

THOSE SCHOOL FINANCES

Uncertain. The most optimistic word these days about the school budgett is "uncertain." The school board will approve its tentative 1975-76 budget next Tuesday, and board president Winthrop Pike says information on state aid may be available by that time, provided Governor Brendan Byrne's brief to the court has been honored by then.

If there isn't any information on state aid, the tentative budget will have to be adopted on an estimated-aid basis. Right now, according to the state's assistant commissioner of education, the smallest amount Princeton could expect is about $450,000. This means a loss of more than $400,000, but at least it's better than the total loss of about $900,000 plus the added burden of about $650,000 in pension money to pay out.

"It's possible, but at the present time the board feels it is not likely," Mr. Pike added, "that the school district would receive the amount given last year."

Mr. Pike said this week that it doesn't seem likely that the pension proposal will go through. That's the Byrne proposal that would have shifted all staff pensions to local districts. At present, the state pays this money.

Public hearing on the budget—either this "tentative" one or another "tentative" one—will be held Tuesday, February 18 at 8 p.m. in Community Park School. It will not be held in the high school, as in previous years.

The budget contains half a million in reductions. The increase in expenditures is $163,100—meaning a budget 2% higher than the present one.

Because state aid is so unsure, the schools can give only a range of dollars, in calculating what the new budget would mean to a taxpayer.

For a Borough home assessed at $50,000 (market value $75,000), the increase would be $28 to $63 a year. A Township home assessed at $50,000 (market value $50,000), would have an increase of $15 to $48 per year. The Borough would feel a tax rate increase of between 2.8 and 6.5 percent; the Township, between 1.6 and 5.3 percent.

TEENAGER CAUGHT

Motorists and others inconvenienced by the weather may have cause to grumble, but small people with sleds were overjoyed at the arrival of the first major snowfall of the winter. The storm deposited about 3½ inches of the white stuff in about a 12-hour period beginning around 1 a.m. Monday. More precipitation, likely to be rain, was forecast for midweek, with a chance of snow on Saturday. Temperatures will run from the mid-20's to low 30's.

John M. Kmenta, 327 Clarksville Road, has been charged with reckless driving, careless driving, fleeing the scene and malicious damage to property by Sgt. James Kopliner. Charges against a passenger in the car, Winfield S. Dix, 18, 38 Dodds Lane, are pending. Police said that Dix apparently drove the green, 1970 Oldsmobile away from the scene after Kmenta had driven across the lawn.

The two were seen by a witness in the neighborhood who called police, Chief Frederick Porter said. They were stopped at 8:25 at the intersection of Nassau and Harrison Streets by police—three miles from the scene.

Chief Porter reported that he believes others are involved in the rash of driving across lawns. "With the cooperation of the public we should be able to apprehend them," he said. He urged people in the community to be on the alert and report any suspicious cars to the police.

According to the police report, Kmenta first drove west on Baker Court, pulled to the curb and shot off his headlights. He then accelerated, turned right, jumped the curb and drove in a loop across the rear lawn of the home of Franklin Schoenberg, 241 Dodds Lane, causing approximately 278 feet of lawn damage. Continuing on he drove across the corner of the front lawn of the property of Mrs. Irene Norkiewicz, 28 Bakers Court, causing 27 feet of property damage.

The Oldsmobile then fled the scene pursued by the witness. Sgt. Kopliner and Det. Anthony Pinelli, the Township juvenile officer, are continuing the investigation.

WOMAN LOSES $30

To Purse-snatchers. A woman walking in the area of Thorne's Drug Store on Nassau Street early Friday evening lost $30 to a pair of purse-snatchers. She was not injured but was left with the remains of her bag's shoulder strap, after the two walked up behind her, grabbed her purse and fled down the alley to the Park Place parking lot.

She ran after them, police said, and saw them drive off in a car on Park Place. Another witness, who saw what was happening, managed to get the car's license number. It and the car's description were immediately radioed to patrol cars. Chief Michael Carnevale reported that a special "bandit squad" comprised of Detectives Timothy Huizing, Ronald Holliday, Charles Harris and Douglas Watsnn, was also on patrol that night on the alert for such muggers.

They found the car unoccupied, on Clay Street. Armed with a search warrant for the car, police had it towed to headquarters where it was searched.

Inside they found a license plate that had been reported stolen, an 11-inch meat cleaver, 10½-inch hunting knife, 9-inch folding knife and two lengths of pipe wrapped in tape.

In "custody and control" of the rented car, police said, was Larry Miller, 19, of Lytle Street. A warrant for his arrest was issued.

The following morning, Miller, accompanied by an attorney, surrendered at police headquarters. Charged with possession of stolen property and possession of dangerous weapons, he was arraigned at 11:35 before Judge Philip Carchman and then transferred to the Mercer County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Miller was not charged in connection with the purse snatching, Chief Carnevale said.

HOME IS ENTERED

On Turner Court. The home of Peter D. Southgate, 41 Turner Court, was entered between 2 and 7 P.M. Wednesday by someone who broke a pane of glass in a door leading to a recreation room.

However, police report that the house was not ransacked and it has not been ascertained as yet if anything was taken. "We have a suspect," said Chief Frederick Porter.

The initial investigation by Ptl. David Cromwell is being continued by Det. Anthony Pinelli, the Township's juvenile officer.

Typewriter Stolen. Township police also report the theft of a $100 typewriter owned by Jeff Blumenfeld, Room A-263 Princeton Inn Dorm (his room was forced open) and a $70 tape deck from a parked car.

The latter, owned by the estate of Mrs. John O'Hara, Pretty Brook Road, had been parked outside in the rear of the Harold Williams Body Shop, Route 206, waiting repair.

Two bags of groceries worth $30.08 were stolen from a grocery cart in the Acme in the Princeton Shopping Center.

The owner, Srida Lind, 246 Nassau Street, told police that after shopping at the A&P, she had left her cart inside the Acme where she had gone to pick up some items. The cart was later located outside the store with the bags missing.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

At Stuart Country Day. Stuart Country Day School will hold its winter open house for prospective students this Sunday from 2 until 4. A slide tape which illustrates life at Stuart throughout the school year will be shown, and student guides will conduct tours.

Sister Judith Garson, headmistress, and Mrs. Kenneth Keuffel, director of admissions, will welcome all those interested in learning more about Stuart. Stuart accepts students in the preschool (a two-year eo-educational program) through the 12th grade.

The enrollment includes all major denominations, with about 50 percent Catholic. The faculty numbers 65 men and women.

MAN IS JAILED

For Stealing Track Winnings. A Trenton man is in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bail after he was charged last week with robbing a fellow employee of his race track winnings.

In jail, charged with robbery and assault, is John H. Smith, 45. His victim and complainant is Geza Phillips. Police said both are employees of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute in Skillman.

According to police, both had a day off last week and Mr. Phillips asked Smith to drive him to the Keystone Race Track in Pennsylvania. There Mr. Phillips hit the Trifecta by picking the correct order of finish of the first three horses in one race, and won $1,030.89. He gave Smith, police said, $50 for driving him to the track and $200 of his winnings.

Later, Mr. Phillips, due to go back on duty, asked Smith to drive him back to the Institute. Smith demurred, insisting they first had to go to a tavern when Phillips bought him some liquor. When Smith still refused to leave, Mr. Phillips left to hail a cab.

Police said Smith followed him outside and allegedly assaulted him with his fists, and took all his money. Mr. Phillips fell, dazed, to the roadway.

None of the race track winnings has been recovered, police said.

CRIME UP SHARPLY

In Township. Serious crimes in the Township increased 51 percent last year, according to a year-end report released by Chief Frederick Porter. The year before such crimes--rape, robbery, assaults, breaking and enterings and so on--had shown an eight percent decrease.

During 1974 there were 511 serious crimes as opposed to 337 during 1973. Larcenies were up from 243 last year to 337, breakiog and enteriogs from 82 to 133, assaults from 19 to 23, rapes from one to two. Robberies, however, decreased from 11 in '73 to two last year while auto thefts were the same for both years--13.

The value of property stolen as a result of breaking and enterings totalled $227,009 of which only $52,191 was recovered. "That's a lot a money" commeoted Chief Frederick Porter. The figures for 1973 were $143,858 and $60,536.

Police made 8,330 service calls in 1974--up 40--and issoed 418 traffic summooses for moving violations as compared to 582 in 1973. The oumber of parking tickets issued dropped from 1,861 to 1,682. The oumher of druok drivers more than doubled from 4 to 10.

PLAQUE FOR THE PRESIDENT: During his stay at Vail, Colorado, President Ford received a plaque making him an honorary member of the Professional Ski Instructors of America from Bob Dorf, administrative director of the resort's ski school and a member of the board of directors of the Ski Instructors' Association. Bob, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erling Dorf, 283 Mercer Road, got a laugh from the President when he told him, "It is our fondest wish that you confine your honorary ski teaching to those members of the White House staff and Secret Service who so desperately need it."

Ninety-one adults were arrested last year, seven fewer than the previous year, and 164 juveniles--eight more than a year ago. The departmeot's eight police cars drove 233,249 miles in 1974 as compared to 268,441 in 1973.

WINDOW BROKEN

At University Store. Borough police are not sure whether ao outside display window of the University Store broken late Thursday night was an attempted forced entry or vaodalism.

Chief Michael Carnevale said that police have not received a report from the university of anythiog taken. Sgt. Ralph Procaccino iovestigated.

In the Township, Harriet Peterson, 254 Jefferson Rnad, told police that three window paoes of her home were broken hy rocks betweeo 9:30 a.m. and 11 p.m last Tuesday. Each measures 7 x 9 inches.

DRIVING HAZARDOUS

Following First Snow Storm. If you live outside the Princetoo environs, chaoces are you were late driving to work Monday morning.

The seasoo's first snowfall of any consequeoce which began in the early morning hours Monday left back roads io the area slick and slippery for those oo their way here to work. Motorists coming in from the Hopewell and Pennington area found Elm Ridge Road and Rosedale backed up with lioes of traffic as cars were unahle to negotiate hills or were blocked by lioes of slow-moving cars converging oo ETS aod Western Electric.

Drivers coming from the Plainsboro and Hightstown areas also found traffic backiog up as they neared Princeton.

In town, police report a few accidents but no injuries. Township police reported a minor accident on Rosedale near the Johnsan Driveway and another on Harrison Street. A truck snapped a pole on 206 hut again—no injuries.

Borough police reported two or three minor accidents. "People were driving slowly aod usiog their heads," said one officer.

Four on Saturday. Surprisingly, there were more accidents in the Township Saturday morning when cars began skidding on icy spots on the roadways. "It was a busy day, the roads were very slippery," said Chief Frederick Porter. There were no injuries.

Two cars skidded into each other head-on on Route 206 between Province Line and Quaker Roads around 10:30 and another skidding accident at the scene followed at 10:48 when a driver swerved to avoid the accident, skidded into the opposite lane, and was struck by another car.

At 11, a car skidded into another car on Harrison Street, a half-mile from Route 1, and fifteen minutes later police were investigating a skidding accident on the Princeton-Kingston Road near Poe Road. Police said that a

University Will Raise Tuition, Reduce Staff In The Face of Projected $1.5 Million Deficit

Princeton University has tentatively projected a budget deficit of $1.5 million for the current fiscal year and a deficit of as much as $1.7 million for the following year, due chiefly to an increase of $2.3 million in energy costs this year over 1973 pre-embargo levels. What is more, energy costs are expected to rise further from $4 million this year to $6 million for fiscal year 1976.

As a result, tuition and room and board charges will be raised, and the number of staff, faculty and building guard positions will be cut back. On the bright side, current employees, particularly those with the lowest salaries, will receive salary increases, and the budgets for undergraduate scholarship funds and for the library will be increased modestly.

These estimates and recommendations are contained in an interim report of the Priorities Committee of the Council of the Princeton University Community released Sunday. The Board of Trustees approved these actions Saturday, and accepted the interim report of the Committee. Implementation can now begin.

In addition, the Committee will continue its examination of priorities during the spring in an effort to further reduce the deficit projected for next year and to bring the long-term budget plans back into balance. The Committee will then issue its final report, possible suggesting additional actions or modifications.

Student Bill Up $625. Tuition will rise by $400 next September, to $3,900 for undergraduates and $4,000 for graduate students. The charges for undergradoate rooms will go up by $100, to $830, and board by $125, to $1070. Compensating increases in financial aid were recommended so that "no student shall have to leave Princeton for financial reasons." The budget estimate for expenditures, including sponsored research, for 1974-75 is $107.5 million and the tentative projection for 1975-76 is $116.3 million.

President William G. Bowen said that "the general economic decline and the sharp rise in costs have placed much of higher education in financial distress. In company with many other colleges and universities we have no alternative but to restrain expenditures for many worthwhile purposes and to increase income as significantly as we can, consistent with our educational objectives."

The main reason for the anticipated deficits, according to the report of the Priorities Committee, is that "the University has been squeezed by inflationary increases in the cost of everything we buy, especially energy, while the current combination of inflation and recession together with the depressed stock market have made it difficult to generate the funds necessary to pay those costs.

Energy Up 135 Percent. The Committee reported that the cost of energy (oil, natural gas, and electricity) increased from $1.7 million in fiscal year 1973 (ending June 30, 1973) to $4.0 million in current fiscal year 1975, despite a considerable reduction in consumption resulting from the University's conservation program. Next year, the energy bill is expected to rise still further—to $6 million.

The report recommended decreases in the numbers of both staff and faculty. However, the Committee recommended salary increases, especially for the lowest paid employees, and an increase in the Library budget of $125,000, including a small accommodation for additional staff.

"In the short run," said the Committee, "Princeton has sufficient capital reserves to weather an occasional deficit, even a deficit of the size being discussed here. This is an advantage that many schools do not have." Deficits cannot be allowed to continue for long, however, the report emphasized.

Major Recommendations in University's Report

- Reduction of eight full-time equivalent faculty positions.
- Reduction of 15 staff positions in the general and academic administration.
- Reduction of six positions in the Department of Athletics.
- Reduction of seven building guard positions assigned primarily to property protection, but with a modest increase in overtime allowances for the proctor force for general security purposes including personal safety.
- A reduction of $500,000 in staff and operating expenses devoted to the maintenance of grounds and buildings. This reduction will not, however, be so severe as to allow the physical plant to deteriorate.
- A reduction of $300,000 in Dormitory and Food Service costs.
- A total of $3.7 million for salary increases for current employees. Increases for individual members of the faculty and staff will vary depending on job category and salary level.
- An increase of $704,000 in undergraduate scholarship funds to cover higher costs of tuition, room, board, and travel and to provide for some reduction in the burden on parents.
- Increases in support for graduate school students allowing a 10% increase in the stipends for University Fellowships and $200 added to stipends for assistants in instruction.
- Increases in rentals of faculty and staff housing of 10% and of graduate student apartments of 9%.

Aqueous Fowle is providing the music and Teller the Magician, the magic. Aqueous Fowle is directed by Robert Davidson who composed and directed last year's "Citizen Kong"

"The band," he intones, "is very broad-based. Even though the instrumentation may suggest a jazz-rock band, the composition range also includes baroque forms with 20th-century tonalities, Broadway show style, a country-western satire, TV movie music, classical jazz and some we can't find a name for."

Mr. Teller isn't talking about his magic.

However, in the script, magic operates in the Planet-Sanit-Tarrium on the planet known as Shoe. Therapy allows materialization of the fantasies of people in the sanitarium and that's where the magic comes in, we suppose. Inanimate objects come alive, people lose their heads (at 11 p.m.) and others disappear into a time frame and emerge for the next night's 8 p.m. performance.

DRAMA THIS WEEKEND

At Montgomery High School. The Montgomery Players, the student drama group of Montgomery High School, will present Jean-Paul Giradoux's "Madwoman of Chaillot" at 8 p.m. on January 23, 24, and 25 in the high school auditorium. Senior Betsy Lefens stars as the madwoman, who leads the crusade to destroy all evil in the world.

Also starring are Angelika Schmidt and Shaun Buckler as the romantic couple, Joe Symonoski as the ragpicker, Peter Narusewicz as the sewerman, and Sara Lefens, Marion Sanders, and Anne Hackler as the three other madwomen of Paris. Isobel Clowes, Drama Advisor, has directed and produced the play.

Tickets at $2 for adults and $1.50 for students may be purchased at the door.

IN NEW BRUNSWICK

George Street. "What the Butler Saw," Joe Orton's farce, will open next Friday, January 31 at 8:30 p.m. at the George Street Playhouse in New Brunswick (414 George).

The theatre will start its second "annual" fund-raising drive the next night, February 1 by inviting several hundred guests to the play and giving an on-stage party afterward (Invitation only, sorry).

"What the Butler Saw" takes place in a psychiatrists's office. Mistaken identities, no identity at all, disguises, and chases through the wards of an asylum all provide a cozy evening of merriment. Performances will be given at 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays and at 3 p.m. Sundays through February 22.

The following production will be a Jean Anouilh's "Antigone" and Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night."

For children, the George Street Playhouse will give a story theatre version of Aesop's Fables on Saturday, February 22, March 1, 8 and 15 at 1 p.m. Adults can come, too.

AT INTIME....

Comedy. A pair of comedies by Brian Friel joined under the title of "Lovers," will open the door to the spring season at Theatre Intime in mid-February. "Winners" and "Losers," in which the Irish playwright takes two satiric views of love and marriage, will play February 6, 7 and 8 and 13, 14 and 15 in Murray Theatre on the University campus.

Kathie Shenton, a junior at Princeton, will direct a cast composed largely of students. Winnie Holzmann, Mark Nelson, David Loevner and Jill Smolowe will be in "Winners" and Jon Lorrain, Kathy Mendeloff, Wendy Grabel and Laurette Tuckerman will be "Losers."

FOR CHILDREN...

Co-op Adds Classes. Two additional children's classes have been set up by The Dance Co-op to absorb demand, the Co-op announced this week.

A class for three-year-olds and "young" four-year-olds in pre-dance will be given Wednesdays from 3 to 3:45 p.m. Starting date is next Wednesday, January 29. Classes will be taught by the Co-op's children's faculty.

Registration may be made at 201-359-6889 or 609-448-5355.

PDS PREPARES MUSICAL. For Late February Showing. The Princeton Day School drama club has been rehearsing the Lerner and Loewe play "Brigadoon" for the past three weeks in preparation for its annual winter musical performances. It will be shown three times from February 21-23, twice in the evening and once as a matinee.

The plot centers on two cosmopolitan men from New York City who travel to Scotland for a fishing trip, and stumble on the enchanted town of Brigadoon, which appears for only one day every hundred years. Predictably, one of the young men falls in love with a girl in Brigadoon, and the rest of the play is all about how they try

MUSIC
In Princeton

OPERA SCHEDULED

At McCarter Theatre. The Princeton Opera Association will present Franz Lehar's operetta "The Merry Widow" on Friday, January 31 and Saturday, February 1 at 8:30 at McCarter Theatre. The work epitomizes a glorious and frivolous age, featuring the finest waltzes and costumes of turn-of-the-century Vienna.

Numerous local singers will perform in "The Merry Widow", plus a realistic chorus of grisettes and dancers from the Princeton Regional Ballet. The title role of the vivacious widow will be played by Lynne Prevet of Wynnewood, Pa. She recently completed a nation-wide tour with "Opera Tonight," and also a successful tour in Germany. She studied with the Santa Fe Opera Association and won a regional audition with the Metropolitan Opera.

Opposite Mrs. Prevet will be Lance Thomas Vining of Elizabeth, N.J., who plays the dashing Danile assigned to marry the wealthy widow in order to save his country from financial ruin. His recent performance of "Hoffman" in Washington was accoladed by the Washington Star News for its "beautiful singing".

Lynne Prevot

Robert Mitchell, of Englewood, a featured artist with W.N.Y.C.'s "Opera Stars of Tomorrow" will sing the role of Camille, the French officer who flirts with the young, not-so-demure Natalie, played by Elizabeth Taylor. Ms. Taylor is a graduate of Manhattan School of Music and has sung principal roles in a wide range of operas.

David Kline, a Westminster Choir College graduate, will play the major role of Popoff. He is now attending the Manhattan School of Music as a scholarship winner in the voice degree program.

The artistic director is Renita D'Ippolito, and the musical director is Igor Chichagov.

When the "The Merry Widow" first appeared, the costumes and manners swept the aspiring and restless world of fashion. The Merry Widow hat, a yard-wide tilted hat embellished with feathers, became a vital part of a fashionable woman's wardrobe. The State of Illinois retaliated by passing a law forbidding the possession of a hat more than 18 inches across!

Tickets for the Princeton Opera Association production are available at McCarter Theatre box office priced from $2.50 up.

CONCERTO CONTEST WON

By Susan Mandel. Mrs. Susan A. Mandel, 217-B Marshall St., will be the featured piano soloist at the February concert of the Princeton University Orchestra, thanks to her first place finish in the annual Concerto Competition conducted recently by the orchestra.

Fifteen musicians, all members of the University community took part in the competition. Honorable mention went to Ms. Joan E. Hartman, a freshman, from Melrose Park, Pa.

Lance Vining

Mrs. Mandel has a Master of Music in piano from SUNY at Stony Brook and is currently studying with Gilbert Kalish in New York City. She has extensive concert experience, both solo and chamber music, and is married to a graduate student in music history at Princeton.

She will perform Beethoven's First Piano Concerto with the University Orchestra at the Feb. 14 concert in Alexander Hall at 8:30 p.m.

PIANO CONCERT SET

By Friends of Music. Jeffrey Farrington, pianist, will give a concert on Friday, January 24 at 8:30 p.m. at Woolworth Center, sponsored by the Friends of Music at Princeton.

A graduate student in music theory at Princeton, Mr. Farrington studied with Katya Andy and is currently a student of Robert Helps. For his concert at Woolworth, Mr. Farrington will perform Piano Variations (1930) by Aaron Copland; Partita No. 4 in D Major by Bach and Beethoven's Sonata in A flat Major, Opus 110. The concert is free and open to the public.

MUSIC FROM MARLBORO

On Tuesday, Feb. 4. Music from Marlboro will be heard on Tuesday, February 4 at 8:30 p.m. in 10 McCosh Hall, sponsored by Princeton University's Department of Music.

Nine noted artists will take time from their solo activities to participate in this performance in Princeton. Pianist Mieczyslaw Horszowski; violinists Isidore Cohen and Eugene Drucker; violist Philipp Naegele; cellist Peter Rejto; double bass player Julius Levine; Randall Cook, English horn, and Robert Routch and Michael Johns, French horns will perform Haydn: Piano Trio in E flat Major; Tovey: Trio in D minor for Piano, Violin and English horn, Opus 14 and Mozart's Divertimento No. 15 in B flat Major.

Tickets are available at the Concert Office, Woolworth Center, on campus from 9 - 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, telephone: 924-0453 or at the door the evening of the concert.

CONCERT SCHEDULED

Jan DeGaetani to Sing. Mezzo-soprano Jan DeGaetani will perform at a free public concert Tuesday, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. in The Playhouse on the campus of Westminster Choir College.

Because of limited seating tickets will be required. They may be picked up at the reception desk of Williamson Hall at Westminster.

Although particularly noted for her performances of contemporary works, Miss DeGaetani also performs baroque, classical and romantic works. Much in demand, she has performed in most of the major cities in the United States, and with most of the major orchestras, including the San Francisco Symphony, the New York Philharmonic, the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony.

Soloists for the performance will be Robert McIver, Lois Laverty and Judy Nicosia, faculty members at Westminster, and Don Caldwell, a former student at Westminster.

Sunday's performance will include "Five Biblical Scenes." Two of the works are oratorios: Carissimi's "Jonah," recently published in a modern performing edition for the first time, and "Daniel in the Lion's Den," a new work by Daniel Pinkham.

Also on the program are Gibbons' "This is the Record of John," Schuetz's "Weih, was weinest du?" and Kodaly's "Jesus and the Traders."

BLUEGRASS SCHEDULED

At Rocky Hill Church. The First Reformed Church, Rocky Hill, will host a five-man band of bluegrass musicians on Sunday, February 2 at 7:30 in the church building on Rte. 206. The band is "The King's Countrymen", known for "praising His name with bluegrass", and they will give a free concert.

They began presenting the gospel through bluegrass music in 1964, and have since recorded five stereo albums and gained popularity at many bluegrass festivals on the East Coast.

Although the bluegrass sound is traditional to the southern Appalachian region, The King's Countrymen all live in Pennsylvania. Among their instruments are a five-string banjo, a lead guitar, a bass guitar, and a dobro.

ORGAN CONCERTS SET

Of Works by Bach. To commemmorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Albert Schweitzer, the Princeton University Chapel and the Chapel Music Departments will present a series of five organ concerts of Bach music this spring. Junior Stefan Kozinsky will initiate the series on Sunday, February 9 at 7 in the Chapel.

In addition to his fame as a missionary and philosopher, Dr. Schweitzer is recognized for his writings on the music of Johann Sebastian Bach and for his performances of Bach's organ music. For this reason, Prof. Walter Nollner, director of music in the University Chapel, said, "I believe that this series will mark his centennial in a way that he would find fitting and positive."

Each of the concerts will be played entirely by a University Organist, either past or present. Schweitzer would also have approved of tapping local resources in this fashion, observed Prof. Nollner.

Organists giving later performances include Carl Weinrich, Director Emeritus of Music in the University Chapel, who will play on March 16. This concert will be his first in the University Chapel since his retirement.

Other organists will be sophomore Roger Ruckert on April 13, graduate student Jessie Ann Owens on May 11, and senior Greg Smith on June 8. All of the concerts will begin at 7 and are open to the public free of charge.

to overcome the odds to stay together.

Linda Farlow and Mark Blaxill play the parts of the young lovers. The directors of the show are Herbert McAneny, acting; Mrs. Frank Jacobson, music; and Mrs. Lucy Graves, choreography.

The show is said to be one of the most ambitious ones the club has ever attempted in terms of music and technical difficulty.

FOR CHILDREN...

Play, at Rider. "The Land of Pure Imagination," play for children, will be given this Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Rider College's Fine Arts Theatre. Performances will benefit the Rider College Women's Club.

PLAYHOUSE

Murder on the Orient Express. Usually there is a direct proportion between the number of stars in a film and its quality: the larger the cast of big-name stars, the poorer the movie. "Murder on the Orient Express," Agatha Christie's classic mystery novel, happily, is a rousing exception.

Albert Finney is Christie's famous sleuth, Hercule Poirot, who sometimes overplays Poirot's eccentricity, but the rest of the all-star cast is uniformly perfect.

Lauren Bacall is a tough loquacious American divorcee, Wendy Hiller, a Russian countess traveling with her German maid, Rachel Roberts; Ingrid Bergman is a repressed Missionary, Sean Connery a British officer, Vanessa Redgrave his companion; Michael York and Jacqueline Bisset are young Hungarian aristocrats, John Gielgud and Anthony Perkins are valet and secretary to Richard Widmark, a crusty U.S. businessman, Martin Balsam is an Italian train executive and Jean Pierre Cassel, a conductor.

All but Balsam are traveling in the coach to Calais when Widmark is discovered murdered in the stranded (due to a snowstorm) sleeping coach. Each of the dozen civilized passengers has a seemingly flawless alibi and it is up to Poirot to ferret out the culprit.

Interviewing each passenger in turn, Finney slowly and methodically puts aside the subtle deceits, charming lies and clever red herrings and eventually pieces together Widmark's murder. The stunning climactic twist is kept teasingly out of the audience's reach until the final moments of the film. A cruel enough punishment hasn't yet been invented for anyone who gives away the ending.

It took 40 years for Mrs. Christie's mystery to reach the screen but the wait is well worth it; it's classy, old-fashioned entertainment which everyone says isn't being made any more. Don't believe it.

GARDEN

Scenes from a Marriage. Ingmar Bergman's brilliant, intimate and masterfully detailed dissection of a seemingly perfect marriage which, after years of surface calm suddenly begins to break apart at the seams under the strains of bottled up resentments and broken illusions, "Scenes from a Marriage" is probably his most universally accessible film to date.

The film is long——12 minutes short of three hours——and is condensed from a 5-hour long television version. It keeps an unwavering focus on two superb performances by Liv Ullmann and Erland Josephson in which ten years in their relationship are compressed into six pivotal "scenes" during which we learn more about this marriage than we have perhaps ever learned about any other on film.

What makes "Scenes from a Marriage" even more fascinating are the scores of bare moments——whether of passion, anger, futility or joy——that ring so nakedly true. And although Bergman's overview of marriage is uncompromising and pessimistic, the film is a far cry from his earlier symbolic forays.

It is a measure of Bergman's talent that what amounts to a two-character situation never becomes claustrophobic. At times, the intimacy is almost embarrassing. Other scenes, like the heart-rending shriek of pent-up anguish of Miss Ullmann when Josephson suddenly and cruelly announces that he's leaving her for a younger woman, are unsettling.

But even the film's quieter, measured moments——the candid confidences, the tiny spats, the countless small cruelties (intended or not) and the final, compromising acceptance of each other are riveting through their sheer intensity and naturalism.

GARDEN LAND OFFERED

To Lawrence Residents. The conservation committee of Lawrence Township has arranged for the town to parcel out small plots of land to would-be subsistence farmers, along with copies of the federal booklet "Gardens for All". But free seeds will not be part of the vegetable-steading give-away.

Township Manager George Gottuso explained that Lawrence will sponsor the latter-day "homesteading" program this spring on Green Acres Land located north of the Lawrenceville School on Rt. 206. He estimated that an average plot might measure 20 by 20 feet.

Gottuso noted that a 400 square foot plot "can certainly feed a large family if it's cared for properly." In addition, the Township is considering movement of several loads of compost to the land from Eggerts Crossing Park, where it was dumped last year.

Driving force behind the program is Mrs. Dorothy Bayless, who chairs the conservation committee and hopes to make Lawrence a leader in a drive to "turn the Garden State back into the Garden State." Mrs. Bayless describes the booklet "Gardens for All" as "the greatest little book I've ever seen—nnt a lot of pie-in-the-sky stuff."

She introduced the idea because she fears that the country's present economic difficulties will be even more trying than the depression was since many people have never learned to care for themselves. She hopes that the land-sharing project will inspire some people to help feed themselves.

Although details for the land-sharing project still must be ironed out, Mr. Gottuso indicated that residents can reserve a prospective plot by sending him a note.

RE-ORGANIZATION SET

For Borough Zoning Board. The Borough Zoning Board will hold a short public meeting Thursday night in Borough Hall for the purpose of re-organization when a new board chairman and vice-chairmen will be selected. No zoning applications have been scheduled.

The board's new full-time member is Mrs. Janice Schreier who is replacing Norman Williams. A new alternate member is Michael Rockland. He is filling the unexpired three-year term of Murray Medvin who resigned when he was elected to Borough Council.

Running for School Board?

If you want to run for the school board, you'd better hurry. Deadline is this Thursday, January 23, at 4 p.m. You must, by that time, have a petition signed by ten supporters and be ready to file the petition with William Evans, board secretary, in his Valley Road building office.

Election will be Tuesday, March 4.

So far, there is no contest for the single seat available for a Borough representative. The candidate is Robin Wallack, she is running for the seat being vacated by Eric Craig.

Two seats are available for Township residents. Candidates are incumbent Winthrop Pike, John Bailey, Dale Madden and Elizabeth B. Smith. They are running for seats now held by Mr. Pike and Philip Cruickshank.

FAMILIES SOUGHT

As AFS Hosts. Families of high school students are being offered the opportunity to become host parents to a student from a foreign country for the next school year.

The AFS International Scholarship program began in 1948. Administered from New York, it now includes every state and many countries in all parts of the world.

Last year, approximately 2,600 students came to this country and about 2,100 Americans went to live with families abroad for either a summer or a school year. Princeton has one of the oldest AFS chapters, started at PHS in 1950 and joined by Miss Fine's School in 1951, a membership continued today at PDS.

Participating schools can nominate candidates for the Americans Abroad program. In the past year, four Princeton students have been chosen, two for a school year and two for a summer with a foreign family.

Those interested in this opportunity may apply to the Princeton AFS Chapter before Saturday, February 8, by calling Mrs. William E. Cromer, at 921-3746.

An open meeting will be held on February 5, at 8 p.m., at Colross on the PDS campus, at which two AFS foreign students will speak, Jorge Barquero of Costa Rica, who is at Princeton High School, and Kenya Yamamoto of Japan, a student at Princeton Day. The public is invited to meet them, and also American returnees.

75% MARK PASSED

By Medical Center Drive. The Princeton Medical Center's annual fund drive surpassed the three-quarter mark this week, reflecting financial support from both Princeton and surrounding communities.

Working toward a $400,000 goal, Resources Committee Chairman, Eugene P. Gillespie, reported total contributions of $303,000, a "significant" portion of which originated from communities outside the immediate Princeton area.

"The growing involvement of the Medical Center in our rapidly expanding service area," Gillespie said, "has been reflected in substantial giving from such communities as Lawrence, Cranbury, Montgomery, Kendall Park, and Windsor-Hightstown area."

"Perhaps more than ever before," Mr. Gillespie said, "contributions are needed to help offset the critical financial setbacks suffered by the Medical Center as a result of the current inflationary spiral. Unless we are successful in reaching our goal, the introduction of new equipment and services to meet the areas growing health care needs undoubtedly will be deferred, if not completely abandoned."

The Resources Committee Chairman said projections for health care services in 1975 emphasized the importance of the Medical Center's facilities and services to residents living in Mercer, Somerset, Middlesex and Monmouth counties. "It has become increasingly apparent," he said, "that the Medical Center at Princeton has indeed become the Medical Center for an entire geographic region."

Gillespie said contributions to the current annual giving program would be invested in the purchase of new equipment, replacing of worn out equipment, and debt retirement.

PEER GROUP TO MEET

To Discuss Stress. The PEER Group (People Eager for Enlarged Relations) will sponsor a program on the topic of stress Wednesday, February 5, at 8 in the Fellowship Hall located behind the Blawenburg Reformed Church. Two medical authorities will discuss the physical effects of stress and ways of dealing with them.

The speakers will be Dr. John B. Atkinson, chief of internal medicine at Carrier Clinic of Belle Mead, and Dr. Karl J.F. Gossner, a psychiatrist serving as associate clinical director of Carrier Clinic. Dr. Atkinson is also associate professor of clinical medicine at the Medical College of Thomas Jefferson University, while Dr. Gossner teaches clinical psychiatry at the N.J. School of Medicine and Dentistry. Dr. Gossner also served as a civilian physician for the U.S. Army in Austria, after having been an Austrian prisoner of war in Germany.

The public is invited to attend and will have the opthe opportunity to question the two guests. The PEER Group is a loose affiliation of individuals in the area interested in sponsoring educational programs from time to time, to help stay abreast of changing problems.

BENEFICIARY NAMED

Of Hospital Dinner Dance. The Doctors Wives Committee of the Auxiliary of the Medical Center at Princeton announced that the proceeds from this year's dinner dance, titled "Safari", will fund needed additions to the medical library at the Medical Center.

The money is needed to maintain the present staff reference library and to purchase new books. The rising costs of paper, printing, and binding have pushed the cost of maintaining current journals above last year's figures.

In addition, the Medical Center has become a teaching hospital beginning this year, necessitating an updating of the present collection of references texts used by interns and residents as well as by the attending medical staff. Information and reservations for the dinner-dance, which will be held on February 8 at 7:30 in the Princeton Day School gymnasium, can be obtained by calling Mrs. H. Brown Elmes at 921-9158 before January 24.

LECTURES CONTINUE

With Indian Presentation. The third lecture in the Historical Society of Princeton's Morning Lecture Series will be held at Pierce Hall, Trinity Church, on Tuesday at 10:30. "Indian Art and Artisans" will be the subject of this lecture by Mrs. Nancy Knox, a vice-president of the Society.

Mrs. Knox, who has lived in Princeton for over 30 years, spends part of the year in Santa Fe, New Mexico where she works with her husband in writing motion picture assignments. She is an amateur archaeologist and a writer on historical and conservation subjects.

Her interest in the American Indian stems from her grandfather having served as an army surgeon in the early days of the West where he made significant contributions to the study of Indian ethnology. her parents' collection of Indian art and artifacts is now at the University of Michigan.

Slides and Artifacts. Mrs. Knox will illustrate her talk with slides of the Rio Grande Pueblos. She will also exhibit classic examples of pottery, blankets, basketry, painting, and ceremonial objects.

Coffee will be served from 10 a.m. until the lecture begins. Tickets are available at $1.50 per person at the door or from the Historical Society's headquarters, 158 Nassau Street.

On Tuesday, February 4 the next lecture of the series will take place and the topic will be "Treasures of Princeton given by Mr. Marshall Posey."

M.I.T. HELPS BUSES

In Student Project. An M.I.T. course in "Transportation" may provide useful data for Princeton's loop bus system, and a young Princeton native is now bringing the two together.

Heather Hazard, 100 Sycamore, is the M.I.T. student. She designed a questionnaire in the course of her course, and submitted it last week to residents of the Butler "project" on Harrison Street where graduate students live.

Back in Cambridge, whe will feed the information she obtained into a computer, and then analyze the data. Results will show the transportation needs of graduate students, and what can be done to meet them.

Miss Hazard asked the graduate students when, why and how they reached various destinations in Princeton. She had already tackled the problem of slack-versus-peak traffic in Boston's mass transit system, and Princeton's loop bus lines have given her something quite different to study. Miss Hazard is majoring in civil engineering.

Official counts for the week ending January 10, show that 994 riders climbed aboard the two Loop buses. Princeton's Joint Transportation Committee is pushing for the 1,000-a-week mark.

Three new members have joined the Committee. They are Vera M. House, Gordon Way; John McGee, Dodds Lane and John Werth, Bertrand Drive. Three students have been named Youth Observers by Township Mayor Jay Bleiman. They are Jim Mellor, Arlen Kassof and Leslie Richert Get That Dog License!

Deadline: next Thursday, January 31. In both Borough and Township.

Borough Hall says you can mail in a $3.50 check for your dog's 1975 license, providing all rabies shots are recorded.

Township Hall says you can mail in your $4, with the same proviso as the Borough's. The Township has a $2-per-month fine, so if you don't pay by the deadline, you'll owe $6. By March, it will be $8, and as one municipal official pointed out, "Your dog can get pretty expensive by August."

NEW HEAD CHOSEN

Of Princeton University Guards, Charles J. Nouvel of Allentown has been named Chief of Guards at Princeton University where he will head a uniformed force of 56.

A participant at the New Jersey State Police Training Academy and a former Marine, the 31-year-old Nouvel succeeds Francis I. Larson, of Freehold, who retired December 31 after 11 years of service.

The new chief began his career in 1966 as a patrolman for Rutgers University in New Brunswick, and was appointed a proctor on the Princeton security staff in 1968. In August 1970 he was named Proctor Supervisor.

In his new post he will be responsible for vehicular traffic, building security, and protection of University property. Princeton also has a non-uniformed force of 23 proctors, men and women whose responsibilities center on student-related security and campus crime.

Taylor, a lifelong collector of English literature books and manuscripts will lead two seminars on books and manuscripts which will be held on the Princeton University campus in the Taylor Room, Firestone Library.

The staff consists of PhD candidates, university teachers, graduate students, private language teachers and professional translators. Services offered include language instruction, tutoring, literary discussion, translations - both technical and non-technical - and interpreting.

The spring term will start during the first week of February and continue for 15 weeks. Private as well as semi-private lessons for adults and children are being offered in the following languages: Arabic, Chinese, Danish, Dutch, English (as a second language), French, German, Ancient and Modern Greek, Hebrew, Italian, Japanese, Latin, Polish, Portuguese, Spanish, Swedish, Russian, Romanian and Slovak.

Classes for adults meet once a week for two hours. Classes for children meet once or twice a week for one hour. Semi-private classes are strictly limited to a maximum of four participants, thus insuring a high degree of individual attention. Intensive courses are also available. More information can be obtained by calling: 924-2652 or 921-2540.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS

Roads May Be Slippery. Motorists traveling on New Jersey State highways this winter may have to contend with snow and ice for a longer period of time after a storm due to a chemical shortage, the Department of Transportation has announced.

Manufacturers have drastically reduced the delivery of calcium chloride, a material used in keeping the State's highways free of snow and ice. As a result, the Department has been forced to modify its snow removal procedures.

To make sure the limited supply of the chemical lasts as long as possible, it will be used only when the temperature drops to 25 degrees or below, and the amount of calcium chloride mixed with sodium chloride will be reduced.

Sodium chloride is effective at temperatures from 32 degrees to 26 degrees. At lower temperatures, calcium chloride is added to the sodium chloride to release heat, thereby acting as a catalyst so that the sodium chloride can continue its melting action.

The State Purchase Bureau advertised for bids in July for 4,800 tons of calcium chloride. Only one firm bid and that bid was for only 2,000 tons at a price of $64.98 per ton delivered. Last year's cost per ton was $42.72.

A second advertisement was necessary for the remaining chemical, and slowness of delivery may hamper the Department's snow fighting program.

In early December the Department had one-third the amount of calcium chloride on hand that was considered essential to continue its "bare pavement" policy, which is to clear State highways of ice and snow as soon as possible after a storm.

HOST FAMILY SOUGHT

For AFS Student. The Montgomery AFS Chapter is beginning to look for a family eager to house in their own home an overseas exchange student for the school year 1975-76. Presently, the school is still enjoying the visit of this year's student, Hatem Ben Salem from Tunisia.

An American Field Service student is a youth from one of 60 participating countries who comes to the U.S. to study and live as a member of a host family. He shares its duties and pleasures, its understanding and love.

Those interested in knowing more about becoming a host family should contact Mrs. R.W. Timmerman, 359-4316, as soon as possible, or call Miss Marjorie Hick, faculty AFS Club advisor at the Montgomery High School.

NEW INSPECTION PLAN

For Bicycles in West Windsor. The bicycle committee of the West Windsor Recreation Commission has announced a new program of individual bicycle inspections.

Bikes may be registered at police headquarters in Dutch Neck, and, in addition, may now be inspected by the bicycle committee by calling 799-2286 or 799-2312 evenings and weekends. Those with questions about bicycle operation or maintenance should also call those numbers.

SHORT SEMINARS SET

In Finance at YMCA. How to stretch dollars and improve their investment return is the subject of three short-term seminars now open for enrollment for men and women at the YMCA. All are open to the public and YMCA members at modest fees.

A three-evening seminar on personal insurance will provide practical and useful information on how to plan for insurance needs. Members from Howe Insurance Company will conduct the seminars on January 22, 29 and February 5. Topics covered will be home, personal, auto, recreational, life and health insurance.

A seminar on real estate investment will be given January 20, 27, February 3, 10 by Edward Goldberg, a real estate investment counselor. It will teach the unsophisticated investor about investment opportunities, analysing investment properties, tax shelters, depreciation, management, limited partnerships and financing.

The third seminar, Elementary Investments, will meet February 25, March 4, 11, and 18. Instructors will be from Laidlaw-Coggeshall. The course will cover basic concepts, definitions, and strategies for the beginning investor.

BOOK FAIR PLANNED

To Benefit Chapin. Books of all kinds for all ages will be displayed and available for sale in the library at the annual Chapin School Book Fair, Monday through Friday, Jan. 27 - 31, from 8:30 until 3:30.

The Fair, sponsored by the Parents' Association, is co-chaired by Mrs. Ashley Cooper and Mrs. Claire Miller.

The proceeds from the Fair, which includes books on subjects such as crafts, history, hobbies, fiction, non-fiction, reference, and assorted paperbacks, will be used for books and other materials needed by the Library.

News Of Clubs and Organizations

ART OF THE NEEDLE Stitchery on View. How many kinds of needlework can Muriel Bishop do? It depends on whether you count categories or all the kinds of needlework within categories, but you can satisfy your curiosity and do your own counting at the Historical Society of Princeton, Bainbridge House.

A display of Mrs. Bishop's needlework will be on view there for the next several weeks. There is silk work, crewel work, a curtain of pulled work, a land and seascape in creative stitchery, and several more.

Trained in England at the Birmingham, Derby and Bristol art schools in general art subjects, Mrs. Bishop later studied embroidery at the same schools with teachers who had graduated from the Royal School in art needlework.

Mrs. Bishop, who now lives in Princeton with her husband, a retired Methodist minister, was a founder of the Embroiderers' Guild of America (1958) and founder and first president of the Garden State chapter of the Guild. She has taught in Princeton, lectured on embroidery and designed in all categories of needlework.

She is adept in five kinds of "white work," including the Danish hedebo, the Norweign Hardanger and the Irish Mount Mellick work. In the Historical Society exhibit is a firescreen in Jacobean work, a stool in bargello and a delicate linen curtain in pulled work, which has in itself, a wide variety of stitches. One applique, of a standing woman, is a kind of sampler of needlework variety, including patterned darning, Chinese couching and various embroidery stitches.

The Friday Club of the Princeton YWCA will meet this Friday for lunch at 12:30 in the all purpose room of the "Y". The afternoon's program will be a "white elephant sale," with everyone asked to bring to the luncheon items they wish to sell. Those needing rides should call the YWCA at 924-4825 before 11 on Friday.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad recently installed its officers for 1975. They are Kay Clausen, president; Doris Cowan, vice-president; Anna Miller, secretary; and Suzy Wycheff, treasurer. The Auxiliary will next meet Monday at 8 in the Squad home.

The Elizabeth Taylor Byrd Fund will hold its 12th annual dinner dance on Saturday, February 8 at 6:30 at Angeloni's, White Horse-Mercerville Road, Mercerville. The affair will benefit the organization's scholarship fund. Dr. Emily Gibbes, associate general secretary of the National Council of Churches, will be the guest speaker.

UP AT JINGLESTONE...

Paintings And Antiques. "I had always liked the idea of the juxtaposition of the old and new," commented Bob Griffiths in discussing his recently opened Jinglestone Gallery and Antiques. The store itself, an old one at the blinker light in Sergeantsville, perfectly supports this philosophy.

The antiques are housed in a small intimate front room with ceiling beams, white rough walls and an arched doorway. Then through this doorway and down a few steps is a spacious room with large white walls and track lighting, an excellent setting for changing art exhibits.

The current show features works by Marbury Hill Brown, Linda Perry Di Fazio and Laszlo Matulay, priced from $75 to $1000. Mr. Griffiths plans to partially change the show each month, with some artists remaining for a longer stay.

The antiques part of the business is not new to Mr Griffiths. He previously owned a shop in the north part of Hunterdon County and for the past few years has operated from the barn of his nearby home, called Jinglestone because the original house was entirely built of blue jinglestone.

"I don't like big cluttered antique stores," said Mr. Griffiths. "I like things that show up well and look nice together." Therefore, only about one-half of his pieces are presently in the shop.

Although he favors 18th and early 19th century American pieces, he has a few English things such as a Georgian oval brass chamberstick, $45; a tall mahogany chest of drawers with replacement pulls, $450, and a three-plank oak top tilt-top table with a mahogany base, c. 1760-80, $275.

AT JINGLESTONE: This lovely and quite large wood wheel made in Maine about 1860-80 is only one of many American antiques at Jinglestone Gallery and Antiques which opened last month in Sergeantsville.

We saw both period and country American pieces such as a large 19th century portable writing desk, $65; a 10-gallon butter churn from a Lancaster County, Pa., home, $90, and a pine chest of a Southern Connecticut type with the chest sitting on top of two large drawers, c. 1700-20, $395.

We alsn liked the one-drawer pine stand with unusual turned legs, c. 1800-20, $85; two plates from the Ching Dynasty (1736-95), $90 each; a framed Dutch sampler containing many initials and a translation on the back, 1899, $45, and the coin silver tablespoons and sets of teaspoons.

Jinglestone Gallery and Antiques is located on Route 523 in the center of Sergeantsville, and its hours are 12 to 5 Wednesday through Sunday.

ANY SIZE DECORATING

At The Tomato Factory. There is no such thing as a decorating job that is too small or too large for Mary Ann and Maurice Browning. They are most accommodating, and it is this flexibility that has allowed their business to considerably grow and change over the past 10 years.

When Mr. Browning bought the 75-year old Hopewell Tomato Factory, he was a manufacturer of shower curtains and matching bath accessories which he sold to major retail stores. Then seven years ago he decided to open a small retail shop to dispose of his discontinued lines. His retail business quickly grew and within two years he was no longer manufacturing for others, but was making bath accessories exclusively for his own store.

Today the shower curtains and accessories are still a major part of the store. The designs which include stripes, florals, plaids, abstracts, watered satins and even a few mod ones come in all color tones and are too numerous to be displayed at the same time.

In addition, because everything is done on the premises, the middle-man cost is elimated. Curtains start at $5 with $14 being an average price, and most wastebaskets and tissue boxes are $6 and $4 respectively.

As the children grew, Mrs. Browning, a graduate of the Parsons School of Design, began helping people decorate entire bathrooms, and before long she was being asked to help with other rooms. There now is a full decorating service with fabric, wallpaper and even carpeting samples from such companies as Greff, Schumacher, Thorpe, Stroheim and Waverly.

There are also sample books from the decorator houses of Connaisance and Scallamandre, and although these are expensive, there is the advantage of having a pattern in any color combination and type of cloth you want.

Small Touches. Even if you are working on a limited budget (and most people are), the Brownings are glad to help. Mrs. Browning feels it is possible to give a room a new look with small touches or even some do-it-yourself projects. Without a great expense you can paint a room a new color, slipcover a chair in a gay floral print, lacquer a few side chairs or freshen your present draperies with some custom trims.

And speaking of trims, The Tomato Factory has a wall of them, with the cotton ones starting at 30 cents a yard. Like most everything here (with the exception of custom orders), these are discounted prices, made possible because the Brownings own the building and have relatively low overhead costs.

The Tomato Factory will arrange for slipcovers, drapes, bedspreads, upholstery or whatever you have in mind, or you can take the fabric home and do your own sewing. Mr. Browning told us, "our slipcover man is terrific. By omitting the skirt and using special pins, he can give a chair the look of upholstery." And, in his accommodating way, he mentioned that they will even make slipcovers with a customer's own fabric.

Another service they provide is the blocking and mounting of needlepoint. In fact, Clayton's Yarn Shop recommends them. If you are interested, Mrs. Browning suggests you bring the backing material with you as it is too difficult to stock all the colors.

The Tomato Factory is filled with extras such as decorator pillows in every imaginable upholstery fabric priced from $3.50 to $14 for the floor-sized ones; table linens including napkins, placemats and round trimmed tablecloths starting at $7.50, and handsome solid brass drawer and door pulls from Spain and Portugal, $1.50 and up.

In addition, you will find toilet seats which can have an insert of your favorite fabric; notepaper with great sounding recipes on the front, $2 for 16; a box of paper picnic products, $6.50; and candles and toiletries by Carolina.

The Tomato Factory, located on Hamilton Avenue in Hopewell, is open Monday through Friday from 9 to 4:30 and on Saturday from 10 to 4:30.

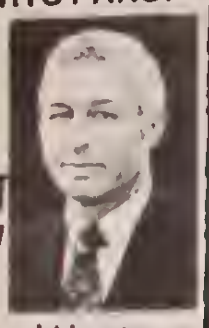
SPORTS FANS!



I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Only three men in history have ever scored 100 or more points in a college or pro basketball game...Can you name the only three who have done it?...They are Bevo Francis who did it for Rio Grande College in 1953, Frank Selvy who did it for Furman University in 1954, and Wilt Chamberlain who did it in pro ball in 1962.

One of the most amazing games in basketball history was a freshmen game some years back between Duquesne University and St. Francis...Because of fouls, Duquesne finished the game with only three players instead of five on the floor, and they had no more left on the bench to put in——but what makes this game one of the strangest of all-time is that Duquesne ACTUALLY DID BETTER while they had fewer men playing than when they had a full team!...With 7:29 left in the game, the score was tied 59-59 when a player fouled out leaving Duquesne with only four players against St. Francis' five...During the next five minutes Duquesne went ahead 77-61!...With 2:23 left, another player fouled out, leaving only three players against five...But, Duquesne not only held their lead——they actually built their score and won the game!

DUKE NEXT OPPONENT

For Princeton Quintet. Since 1900 Princeton basethall teams have faced opponents ranging from the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company and the New York City West End YMCA to UCLA and North Carolina state. But none has given them more trouble than Duke.

In a series which began in 1936, the Tigers have yet to win in 11 outings. Their latest beating came before Christmas in the South Carolina Classic, where the Blue Devils won a consolation round contest, 66 to 57.

The Orange and Black held a seven-poiot lead early in the second half, but could only hit on 28 percent of their shots in the final stanza to 56 percent for the winners.

Coach Pete Carril has admitted that shooting is not one of his team's strong points, and so the defense will have to sparkle the way it has against Penn and Temple

The contest is set for this Saturday in Durham; tipoff at 8 p.m.

Penn Likely to Win The following Tuesday will find the Tigers in the Palestra against a Penn team undoubtedly eager to avenge its defeat here earlier this month. The loss was only the fifth for the Quakers in the last five years of league play; Princeton administering three of the defeats, Brown the other two.

Rated as high as ninth in early season polls, the Red and Blue (9-3) is no longer in the top 20 after that loss plus two in the Rainbow Classic. But at 2-1 in the Ivy race, it still has to be considered the favorite.

The Quakers scored impressive victories over Harvard and Dartmouth two weeks ago, while the Tigers had their troubles winning on both nights.

In the January 4 contest, the Orange and Black squandered a 16-point lead and narrowly missed losing when John Engles shot bounced off the rim with 10 seconds remaining.

It's highly doubtful Carril's charges will have the luxury of a 16-point advantage at any time in Philadelphia, and just as unlikely that All-Ivy center Ron Haigler will be held to 12 points (scoreless in the final 11 minutes.)

While a victory would really put the Tigers in the driver's seat for the rest of the race, a loss would not put an end to hopes of dethroning Penn, Brown, co-leader with Princeton, most play both here and in Philadelphia. Both Penn and Princeton still have a full road schedule ahead, and the team that can win the most away from its home court will probably pick up the marbles.

Princeton will get a quick indication of its chances after the Penn game, when it meets Brown in Providence on Saturday, February 1, after a Friday night encounter with Yale

The Tigers won't return to Jadwin until the weekend of February 7 and 8 with games against Cornell and Columbia.

Off his fine performances against both Harvard and Dartmouth, co-captain Mickey Steuerer is fourth in league scoring with 16.3 average.

TIGER SEXTET ON ROAD

With Boston Trip. The Princeton University hockey team may remember their two-week exam break nostalgically after they complete their next weekend road trip to Boston University on Friday night and Northeastern on Saturday afternoon. B.U. is in second place in the E.C.A.C. Eastern Division, sporting a 7-1 record, while Princeton is 2-4 in the league and 2-6 over-all.

Northeastern, with a mediocre 5-6-1 record, should offer more attractive competition for the harried Tiger skaters, who have not played a home game since December 10. However, Princeton will have seven games in Baker Rink during February, after one more road trip to play Cornell on January 29.

Last year, Princeton suffered a 4-0 loss to B.U., while tying Northeastern later in the season, 3-3. One good indicator of this year's result may be Princeton's 4-0 loss to Vermont at home in early December. Vermont was in a tie for second place in the E.C.A.C. standings until losing to B.U., 6-3 last week.

Princeton's record this season is misleadingly poor. In all but two games, they have given an excellent account of themselves, and all of their losses have been to strong teams. The defense has been their biggest nemesis, allowing four goals or more in every game, often in sudden, demoralizing spurts.

The Friday night game will be broadcast from Boston University over WPRB radio beginning at 7:30.

HUN ROLLS ON

Key Pennington Game Friday. The Hun basketball team, following victories over George School and rival Princeton Day School last week, increased its record to 9-3 and is well on the way to bettering last year's 21-7 mark

Hun has fourteen contests left, including a key Penn-Jersey battle Friday evening at home against Pennington School. Hun and Pennington rank as co-favorites in the northern division of the Penn-Jersey League. Tapofff is 8 p.m.

Wednesday in Newtown, Pa., Hun will meet George School again and this Wednesday, it was scheduled to meet Lawrenceville School at 2:30 in the Carries' Lavino Fieldhouse.

Hun enjoyed one of its easiest games of the season Friday at George School's expense, cnasting to an 86-49 triumph. All 12 Hun players scored led by freshman Ron Peyton who had 19 and the three-year veteran Tony Trani who added 17. Nick Brady and Terry McEwen combined for 18 more Hun jumped to a 25-10 first period lead and outscored the losers in every period. George School's record dipped to 3-3.

Team Win Over PDS. Hun coach Dave Leete described Hun's satisfying 60-54 victory over Princeton Day School earlier in the week as a "good team effort." Ahead by one at the half, Hun opened up a commanding 58-44 margin in the final period before the home team Paothers closed with a flurry

Trani led all scorers with 21 points and PDS coach Al Taback paid him the high compliment by saying that Trani was "basically the difference in the game." The previous game, Trani had scored his 1,000th point to join Mike Maguire and last year's Biff Hollowell as the only Hun players to have reached that plateau

The 5-10½ playmaker and guard is a fine college prospect and has applied at Princeton University, Dartmouth, Bucknell, Lafayette and Davidson. "His defensive play alone will keep him playing in college," commented Leete who added that Trani's shooting this year has improved tremendously. He is averaging close to 20 points a game.

A SOPHOMORE WHO'S A JUNIOR: Junior Oldham scored eight points in his first game for the PHS quintet last week as the Little Tigers lost to St. Anthony's. He is a sophomore.

Sports in Princeton

An interested spectator at the PDS game was Princeton coach Pete Carril. Carril described Trani as "smart and heady" and a good, aggressive defensive player...one he would like to take a chance on if he enters Princeton.

Leete also singled out Mike Troyannvitch for holding PHS standout Randy Melville to five points--"a good feat"--Peyton for his rebounding and Brady and McEwen for "their fine job all around--both offensively and defensively." Brady was second to Trani in scoring with 13, while Peyton had 11.

"We didn't fold up at the end," said Leete, as he watched his team defeat PDS for the second time this season.

TROTMAN TRYS BENCH To Get PHS Moving. Princeton High basketball coach Marvin Trotman turned to his bench last week to try to get his slumping——one victory in six starts——team moving.

Against St. Anthony's here Friday, Trotman started freshman Mike Fuschini and used Junior Oldham, a 6-1½ sophomore, for the first time. Oldham scored eight points and Fuschini, four, as PHS lost in the closing minutes, 63-58.

The Little Tigers will play two Mercer County League foes next, entertaining Steinert here Friday afternoon, starting at 3:45, and traveling to Trenton Tuesday night for a game with the powerful Tornadoes. Tapoff is 8 p.m. Trenton is 4-0 in league play, while Steinert is 2-2.

"He's shown me he's ready to play," replied Trotman when asked why he started Fuschini. "He showed a lack of experience in a couple of spots, but overall, I was pleased with the way he played." He added that he thought Oldham also played a fine game.

Something Missing. "Look, we're 1-5. The younger kids are going to play more and more. Something's missing. What, I don't know, but evidently we're not getting what we should."

The St. Anthony game mirrored a familiar pattern in which the Little Tigers build an early lead, then squander it and get no help at all from the foul line.

"We have to be the worst foul shooting team in the county" moaned Trotman. PHS converted four of nine attempts from the foul line while Steinert was hitting on 21. In fact, after a Pete Watson basket had given PHS its last lead at 55-53, the visiting Iron Mikes (3-6) made all of their last 10 points from the charity stripe.

Princeton's best quarter was the first. Daryl Marshall connected for four baskets from outside, Roland Alexander hit three more——again from outside——and Watson, Randy Bullock, Felix Brown and Fuschini, who got Princeton's second two-pointer, all added single baskets as the home team opened up a 22-11 lead just before the end of the period.

St Anthony began the second period with 10 unanswered points, however, to regain the lead at 23-22. "We let 'em get right back in," said Trotman "We've been doing that every game Once we get the lead we expect it to be easy. We can't slack off."

Oldham's six points in the second period kept PHS in contention as the half ended 35-34 with the visitors up. The teams battled on even terms throughout the third period and halfway through the fourth until St Anthony began its endless trips to the foul line.

Marshall led PHS with 14 points, followed by Alexander's 13. Watson and Oldham had eight each and Brown, seven John Nairn collected his season's high of 19 to lead St Anthony's mistakes," summed up Trotman, who indicated that he intends to keep using his younger players. "You can't turn the ball over as much as we did and expect to win."

But it was not all dark for Trotman who only a week ago had questioned his team's desire. "Overall," he said, "this game showed we really wanted it. It was a real fine game for both teams; it could have gone either way right to the end."

"We'll get better," he stated.

MATMEN NIP HAMILTON

For First Win. A decision by Paul Soderman in the 170-pound class--his first victory of the season--last week clinched a 25-24 win for the Princeton High School wrestling team over visiting Hamilton.

Coach Tom Murray's PHS squad (1-5) will oppose Steinert here next on Wednesday evening starting at 8 in what promises to be a long season for the Little Tigers. Last year, they were undefeated against county teams.

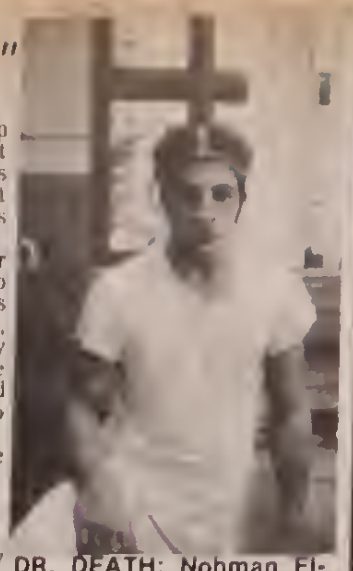
PHS had to build a margin against Hamilton because it has no heavyweight. As a result, it begins every match six points behind.

After Soderman's win, George Pezdrth, Princeton's 188-pound contender, had to keep from being pinned to guarantee the PHS victory. Pezdrth in a sense "won" when he lost a 9-2 decision. Like several members of the PHS team, he is wrestling without any previous experience.

Princeton dominated the middle bouts. Fred Eiker won a superior decision (a spread of 10 points or more) in the 158 pound class, Gus Moffo won a decision--his first--at 148 and Nohman El Meligi won a 9-4 decision at 141. El Meligi is undefeated against county foes and Murray reported that "he wrestled a nice match."

Dan Amarel lost a decision for PHS in the 135-pound division but Greg Robinson got Princeton's only pin when he flattened his opponent in the 129-pound class. Peter Kahn and Tom Severson won decisions in the 122 and 115 pound matches.

PHS fell behind early when Tom Cawley (101 pounder) and Luther McKeller (108) were pinned. At that juncture, PHS was behind, 18-0.



DR. DEATH: Nohman El-Meligi, PHS 141-pound wrestler, is undefeated against Mercer County opponents. A senior, he calls himself Dr. Death after a television figure of the same name.

PDS SKATERS SPLIT

Lose to Hill School. The Princeton Day School hockey team suffered a bruising defeat last Wednesday to the Hill School, 4-1, even though they outshot their hosts 26-20. Two days later, PDS exploded from the scoring doldrums by blasting hapless Christian Brothers, 20-0. And they weren't playing football, either!

Coach Aubrey Huston didn't even want to comment about the Christian Brothers game, sounding as embarrassed about the score as if he'd been on the losing end of it. He did note, however, that their opponents' only top player was out with a back injury, yet even so, he said, "I didn't really expect them to be that bad." Since they are still a fledgling high school team, Christian Brothers will probably be dropped from the PDS schedule next year. At any rate, the one-sided triumph helped the Panthers even their record at 3-3.

But not the Hill School; they'll re-appear on the PDS schedule next Wednesday at 4 for a re-match at home. Huston described them as being "strong, large, and very well-coached, with good goaltending."

It was an "even game," said Huston, as evidenced by the fact that PDS had one third-period goal disallowed, while the Hill scored their fourth and final goal into an open net in the closing seconds.

No Goal. With the score 3-1 and PDS hustling to draw even, the referee stopped play during a goal-mouth scramble because he had lost sight of the puck. At that moment, a PDS player poked it in from behind, and Huston claims that the puck was actually still loose between the goalie's legs. But he admitted that when a referee can't see the puck, it is his responsibility to whistle for a face-off.

Previously Hill had notched one goal in each period, before Mark Zawadsky of PDS startled the Hill goalie in the third period with a score off a loose puck to cut the score to 3-1. But, despite the excelleat play of the make-shift line of Tommy Moore, Bill Erdman, and David O'Connor, the Panthers couldn't pull closer.

Huston blamed the defeat on his team's difficulties in clearing the puck and adjusting against the Hill's forechecking style. He cited Bill McClellan and Ralph Brown for their strong defensive play, in spite of several penalties.

PDS was scheduled to play Lawrenceville on Wednesday in a very evenly-matched rivalry. Huston believes that with his defense improving and Ditch Gordon playing steadily in goal, PDS simply needs "to prove something to ourselves and beat a tough team."

And the Hill re-match might be the opportunity, since the only other PDS contest this week is another lopsided match-up with Peddie, who

RIESSEN TO PLAY HERE: Marty Riessen, who has passed Arthur Ashe as the top American in tennis standings, will participate in the Tennis Jamboree to be held February 1 at Jadwin Gym.

PDS beat 11-0 two weeks ago. And Christian Brothers tied Peddie earlier in the season!

PDS CAGERS SPLIT 2

Crush Blair, Fall to Hun. The Princeton Day School basketball team lost its high-pressured re-match to the Hun School, 60-54, last Wednesday, but bounced back to decimate a decent Blair Academy squad, 82-40, on Friday. The split left the young PDS club with a 7-3 record, as it readies for three more games this week.

Coach Alan Taback was disappointed in his team's defensive performance against Hun that permitted them to open a 14-point lead in the final quarter before PDS clawed back to a respectable finish. Taback noted, "We had a couple of bad spots defensively where we didn't get back and set up in time and it hurts us."

The play of Hun's Tony Trani, being scouted by Princeton University coach Pete Carril, was "basically the difference in the game", Taback felt, citing his ability to control the ball. Trani's 21 points and ball control, combined with a sloppy first half marred by walking violations and turn-overs, was enough to undo the Panthers.

Poor Under Pressure. Taback commented that, "We haven't played a big game yet under pressure in a relaxed fashion. I also thought," he continued, "there was a lid on the basket at times, and it just wasn't our day."

Despite the in-and-out shooting, Billy Martin went inside for 17 points, Frank Konstantynowicz chipped in 16, and Paul Goldman added 10 for PDS. But pivot man Randy Melville was dogged by Hun and held to a season-low of five points.

Taback said his team had been concentrating on defense since the Hun game, and the improvement showed measurably against Blair. PDS held Blair under 10 points in all but one quarter, running off to a decisive 19-6 lead in the first quarter. Their only let-down was a 22-19 margin in the second period.

Balanced Showing. Taback praised the team for playing "really, really well", as indicated by five players all scoring in double figures. Martin again led the way with 18 points, followed by Melville with 16, Konstantynowicz with 15, Goldman with 13 and Bill Baggitt with 12.

PDS appears to be well-tuned for three contests this week against Morristown-Beard away on Wednesday, Wardlaw School at home on Friday, and Admiral Farragut home on Monday. Wardlaw, a country day school in Plainfield, represents the best competition of the three having a good, quick team, with all five starters able to run and shoot well despite their lack of height.

Taback says that PDS "must control the tempo" against Wardlaw, whereas Admiral Farragut should pose few problems for the Panthers.

practice into preaching.

Riessen is described as a real scrambler, one who seldom lets a shot get past him. His tenacity makes him a crowd favorite, and a feared competitor for other players. "He is one player," said the London Times last year, "who does not seem to have learned how to give less than 100 percent."

Riessen, who at 31 seems to improve with age, has passed Arthur Ashe as the top American in the World Championship of Tennis standings. He is a straightforward, disciplined player and forms with Tom Okker one of the premiere doubles teams in the world, sharing four doubles championships in 1971.

In singles, Riessen won major pro tournaments in Teheran and Quebec and reached the finals at Denver and Washington in 1972. And in 1971 he garnered six singles titles, including three wins over Laver in the span of three weeks.

Tickets for the evening exhibition are $1 fnr students and $5 for adults. They may he purchased at the Jadwin ticket office.

Tickets may also be purchased at the Princeton University Store Ticketron, the Youth Tennis Foundation, 71 University Place, the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center, Washington Road, Princeton Junction, and the Mercer County Indoor Center in West Trenton.

PERKS IS BEATEN

In Basketball League, Perks fell from the ranks of the unbeaten last week in Princeton Recreation League basketball, leaving Joint Effort and Bill Brown and Company, both of whom were idle, as the only unbeaten, unblemished teams remaining. And Monday night's scheduled showdown between these two teams was postponed until mid-February due tn the snowstorm.

Last Tuesday, Lyons Seafood upped its record to 2-2 by defeating previously unbeaten Perks, 67-64. The score see-sawed during the 1st half as both teams played sloppily. Trailing 32-29 at halftime, Mlt Gaylord and Ed McEwen of Lyons began to exploit the Perks man-tn-man defense, opening an 8 point lead into the 4th quarter.

But with three minutes remaining, Perks employed an effective full court press cutting the lead to 62-61. Hnwever, McEwen converted 3 foul shots in the closing seconds to ice the victory, winding up with 17 points. Brother Rob McEwen and Gaylord tallied 14 apiece. Perks got a good game from forward Jeff Sturn (14 points) and an exceptional game from reserve guard Steve Perone (14 points), while David Neal was again the mainstay with 17 points.

The Outcasts used an effective fast break to wear down Kingston Wine, 65-55, in their best game of the seasnn. Kingston's Bob Wylie (16 points) displayed inside form, but otherwise Kingston's shooting and penetration were weak. Meanwhile, the Outcasts fast break was complemented by Jeff Bullock with 15 points on fine jumpshots.

The Outcasts pulled away in the 4th period behind Robin Everette (18 points). Both Johnny Miller (16 points) and Larry Miller (8 points) rebounded effectively for the Outcasts, as did Ed Vernon. Kingston's Rick Miller countered with 15 points.

On Wednesday, the Borough Bandits came back from an early 18-6 deficit to outrun Conte's Bar, 60-54 upping their record at 3-2. Conte's is now 2-3. John Cook was outstanding on defense holding Conte's Craig Hannas to 12 points.

The Bandits produced numerous steals throughout the game, as Steve Towns led all scorers with 16 points and John Cook scored 14. Subs Dave Johnson and Randy Furch both contributed significantly to the victory, while Conte's received a fine offensive effort from Bill McQuade with 15 points. Jim McCleod scored 11 for Conte's, but was hampered by the defensive play of Kevin Marshall

Perks improved their record to 4-1 by defeating the Outcasts, 83-54, rolling up the first 13 points in the game. Defensive mismatches caused considerahle prnhlems as 6'3" Mark Baldwin and 6'3" Dave Neal successfully shot over the smaller Outcast guards.

Jeff Bullock continued his marksmanship as he led the Outcasts with 15 points and Robin Everette added 14, all in the 1st half Perks again produced a balanced scoring attack as Ken Cromer led all scorers with 22 points and Jeff Sturn produced 14. Baldwin contrihuted 15 points and Tom Perks also provided a lift for the Perks Club with 10 points as the league's reigning "senior citizen".

On Friday, Kingston Wine and Liquor jumped off to an early lead and then held on to defeat the surging Borough Bandits, 61-58 Kingston's Frank Francavilla played his best game of the season, scoring 20 points and setting up numerous others with quick passes off drives, especially to Bob Wylie who added 14 points.

Kevin Marshall had his best offensive game of the year for the Bandits with 21 points. But the Bandits' shooting was off and their rehounding unproductive. With the score tied 56-56, the Bandits managed nine successive shots without a single basket. After Rick Miller hit two foul shots, Kingston stalled until Bob Wylie's lay-up with 15 seconds left to clinch their second victory of the season.

Lyons Seafood, one of the more polished teams in the league, had difficulty in finally disposing of the Triggers, 47-39 Lyons consistently threw the ball away, made mental errors and shot poorly, mostly scoring off fast breaks.

The Triggers received a fine offensive effort from newcomer Peter Sears with 19 points and Denny Reigle had 14 points. Lyons coach Ed McEwen, playing injured, was their top scorer with 10 points.

A GENERATION ENDS

As Pollster Retires. The retirement of Lawrence E. Benson, as chairman of the board of Benson & Benson, Inc., marks the end of a career stretching back to the infant days of modern polling techniques.

Since joining the Gallup Research Service in Chicago in 1931, Mr. Benson has made many contributions to the growth and acceptance of survey research by corporations, newspapers and radio stations.

He accomplished these both while president from 1937 to 1952 of Public Opinion Surveys, Inc., which performed the interviewing assignments for the Gallup Polls, and as co-founder in 1938 of the firm of Benson & Benson. His private firm provided survey research services to businesses and non-profit organizations in confronting their policy and communications problems.

In 1935, Benson directed a survey for The Washington Post which may have been one of the earliest uses of probability sampling methods. This method became popular once the then-popular quota and judgement methods were discredited in the 1948 elections.

In 1941, he helped develop and promulgate the "secret ballot box" technique by which survey respondents could anonymously record their opinions without fear of disclosure. During the 40's, he also helped develop and popularize the previously little-used technique of mail research.

Lawrence E. Benson

In 1945, he refined and systematized techniques for measuring listening patterns for radio. The new system was widely used by CBS, becoming the prototype for radio and later for television audience measurements.

Four years ago, Benson became chairman of the board, signifying the changing of the guard to a new generation of management of the firm. With his full retirement, Mr. Benson plans to travel extensively.

Q What 1974 luxury car was $4975 last January and is still available at $4975 this January?

It was quite a year for price increases. Most cars went up several hundred dollars. But the Audi 100LS is still the same price this January as it was last January. And it's still available.

The Audi is a full-sized luxury car, extraordinarily comfortable. Its seats were orthopedically designed to help prevent fatigue, it has the legroom and headroom of some cars twice the price, it's the only luxury car that combines front-wheel drive, torsion crank rear axle, front disc brakes, rack-and-pinion steering. And it's German engineered to last. And to get about 21 miles to the gallon.*

It may go up in February. But this month you can get it for $4975.* Unquestionably.

Watch for Ice on State Road

Sgt. Anthony Nini, the Township's Traffic Safety Officer, urges all motorists to exercise extra caution during winter driving when longer hours of darkness increase the dangers of driving. The main hazards of winter driving, Sgt. Nini reports, are reduced visibility and inadequate traction.

Sgt. Nini cautions all drivers to be extra careful when driving south on busy Route 206 between Ewing Street and Mansgrove Road. As many motorists know, that section is plagued with continual water runoff problems. During winter, the water that comes off fields and cellars and has no place to go, spills out on the highway and freezes.

Motorists coming over the hill on a dry highway suddenly find themselves traveling on ice, said Sgt. Nini. "We're talking 100 yards of ice," he adds.

He reported that the state Highway Department has promised to reconstruct, resurface and improve the drainage of Route 206 from Ewing to Leigh Avenue. "If the money is available we should get some action by spring," he said.

vestment as well as an art form will be the subject of a two-session lecture series by Carl Gunsser on Wednesday, January 29 and February 5 from 8 to 10 at the Princeton YMCA. Questions of authenticity, investment value, and the effects of restoration will be discussed, along with practical information concerning age, woods, types, and establishment of value.

Registration for the course is required in advance. It will be limited to allow maximum individual questioning and participation.

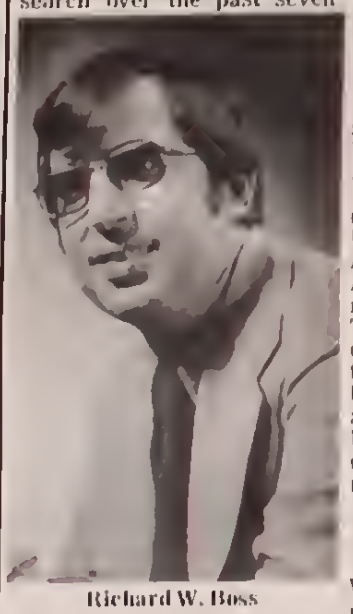
LIBRARIAN NAMED

By University. Princeton University has announced that Richard W. Boss, Director of Libraries of the University of Tennessee, will succeed William S. Dix on July 1 as the Princeton University Librarian.

President William G. Bowen said that the appointment of Mr. Boss concluded a wide search over the past seven months for the person best qualified to direct one of the nation's foremost teaching and research libraries. Mr. Dix will retire as Librarian and member of the faculty, Mr. Bowen said, "after more than two decades of building the resources of the Princeton library system and serving the larger scholarly community in countless ways, including a recent term as President of the American Library Association."



Richard W. Boss

Mr. Boss, a 37-year-old native of Arnhem, Netherlands, and a U.S. citizen, received a B.A. degree from the University of Utah. He earned an M.A. in library science at the University of Washington and completed his Ph.D. work at Utah.

He served in various capacities in the University of Utah Library, becoming its Associate Director and later Acting Director, before moving to the University of Tennessee in 1970 as Director of Libraries. He has also taught at the Universities of Utah, Iowa, and Tennessee and Western Michigan University and provided consultative service for a number of other institutions.

FUND TOPS 80 PERCENT

Additional Gifts Sought. With the total reported reaching toward the 85 percent mark, volunteer leaders of the Princeton Area United Fond-Red Cross Campaign are mounting an all-out effort this week to reach the minimum goal of $645,000. Special telethons are being conducted and personal contacts will be made to all who have not yet given, according to Fred Fields, General Campaign Chairman.

Additional gifts are greatly needed, and he urged those who have not made their contributions to send them to the United Fund, P.O. Box 201, or leave them at 221 Witherspoon Street. The campaign will be kept open until the end of January.

The Princeton Area United Fund-Red Cross Campaign helps support 22 beneficiary services in Princeton, Cranbury, East Windsor, Griggstown, Hightstown, Kingston, Montgomery, Plainsboro, Rocky Hill, West Windsor and adjacent areas of Hopewell, Lawrence and South Brunswick townships. Services supported include Boy and Girl Scouts, YMCA's of Hightstown and Princeton, the YWCA, Retarded Citizens Services, Better Beginnings Day Care Center in East Windsor-Hightstown, the Community Guidance Center of Mercer County, Family Service, Homemakers Services, the Princeton Youth Center and Visiting Nurses.

News Of The CHURCHES

NO CHANGE REPORTED

In Church Attendance. Weekly attendance at United States churches and synagogues remained at 40 percent of the adult population in 1974, the latest annual Gallup Poll of church attendance reveals. This figure is almost the same as that for the previous three years.

The percentage of Protestants who attend church weekly has held constant at 37 since 1971. The Catholic percentage of 55 is the same as for last year, down two points since 1971.

Since 1964, Catholic church attendance has declined the most, dropping from 71 to 55 percent, while Protestants have only dropped one percentage point from 38. Jewish attendance at synagogues has declined from 17 to 16 percent in the past 10 years.

Breakdowns of the poll by categories reveal that: women are more likely than men to attend church in any given week; attendance rises with age; and married persons attend church with greater frequency than single persons.

The poll also indicated that attendance for both faiths is highest among professional and business people (Protestants--41 percent, and Catholics--64 percent), and lowest among manual workers (Protestants--32 percent, and Catholics--46 percent). According to geographic region, attendance is highest for Protestants in the South (41 percent), and for Catholics in the Midwest (63 percent), with attendance the least for both faiths in the Far West (32 and 46 percent respectively).

The categories do not include attendance figures for Jews, because they represent only about three per cent of the U.S. population and the number surveyed was small.

A total of 6,261 persons, 18 and older, were interviewed in person, during selected weeks of the year, in more than 300 scientifically selected sampling localities. They were asked "Did you yourself happen to attend church or synagngue in the last seven days?"

LAWYERS MEET CLERGY

In Two Days of Seminars. Princeton Seminary's Center of Continuing Education has set February 7 and 8 as the dates for this year's Clergy-Lawyer Dialogue. The seminar is open to all concerned clergy, lawyers and lay persons in the Princeton area.

In making the announcement, the Reverend Jack Cooper, Ph.D., Director of the Center, stated: "In the light of current events, lawyers more than ever share a concern for the moral structores of the community and are greatly interested in the realities of the personal life."

The Reverend James E. Wallace, Th.D., Professor of Law at the University of Denver, will lead the sessions, using case studies of interest to both groups of professionals. Trained both as a lawyer and as a clergyman, Professor Wallace has been active in both professions and has led similar seminars at Princeton Semianry in the past severl years.

The number of persons who can be accommodated is limited; those interested in participating should contact Dr. Cooper at the Center of Continuing Education, Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

MINISTER ADDED

At Nassau Presbyterian. The Reverend Blan C. Aldridge has been named to the staff of Nassau Presbyterian Church and will be installed March 9th as associate minister of pastoral care and counseling.

Two more cozy bedrooms, bath and laundry are tucked away behind the truly spectacular kitchen, with its modern working space and separate skylighted sitting room complete with Delft tile bordered fireplace! Close to town on nearly an acre of seclusion. $125,000
